

ADMIT OF ARREST AGAINST STREET BUYING OF DRUGS

Narcotic Squad Prepares for Campaign of Arrests of Purchasers.

STERN RULING ISSUED

Those Desiring Cure Advised to Seek Commitment by Magistrate McAdoo.

VENDER'S SUPPLY SEIZED

$5,000 Lot of Heroin, Cocaine and Morphine Found in Raid.

A statement declaring that drug addicts who make purchases on the streets would be arrested, and advising all addicts desiring a cure to apply to Chief City Magistrate William McAdoo, at 300 Mulberry street, for self-commitment, was issued last night from the office of Dr. Carl Simon, Special Deputy Police Commissioner in charge of the narcotic squad. It was announced that a drive is about to be made upon addicts who buy their drugs on the streets.

Sergeant Mooney of the Narcotic Squad, arrested Daniel Coletto of 216 East Fourteenth street, and locked him up at Police Headquarters on a charge of vending narcotics. A cigar box full of what appeared to be heroin, worth probably $5,000, was found in Coletto's room, together with 250 cubes of what the police say is morphine, and several bottles of cocaine. Dr. Simon said Co-letto had been under investigation for some time, and that his clientele was made up of apparently prosperous people who went to his room in taxicabs.

Addicts are warned in the statement from Dr. Simon's office not to take private cures. The dispenser, which resists inquiries daily from addicts, will not give the addresses of medical men who give special cures or the address of any private institution who give such treatment. It only indicates the public institutions that are suitably equipped, properly experienced and trained to do this work, and who are controlled either by the State or the city.

Before drug vendition has been arrested during the last six weeks than during the entire year of 1919. The numerous arrests made during the last three and a half months, the statement says, has produced a panic among those addicts who purchased their drugs on the streets. When an old dealer is arrested the addict must seek a new one.

Whereas this department respects the sincere activity and the work of the State Department of Narcotic Drug Control and will not molest any addict who is registered with same and is prescribed for by a physician, according to the law," says the statement, "it has no sympathy for those addicts who buy drugs on the street."

Commissioner Simon said he did not wish to inflict unnecessary injury, but insisted that "every addict not complying with the law will be summarily dealt with, no matter what station of life he may occupy."

ONE SHORT CRY IS ONLY INTERUPTION TO GIBBS Calls Tale of Anti-British Feeling 'a Damned Lie.'

One Irish sympathizer in the balcony of the Brooklyn Academy of Music last night interrupted Sir Philip Gibbs long enough to shout at the top of his lungs:
"Three cheers for De Valera!" but nobody took up his invitation to start a demonstration.

Sir Philip was referring to letters he said he had received on his visit here from Americans who profess to know what the average citizen's feelings were toward England during the interruption came. He discussed the Irish situation briefly, reserving a thorough discussion, he said, for a later lecture.

"Some of those who have written to me have said that in spite of the cordiality with which I have been received, underneath it all Americans have a deep-seated hostility for England." Then Sir Philip abandoned the even quietness of his tone, and asserted emphatically:
"I say that is a damned lie!"

"I have been in fifteen cities since my arrival here and I am certain in my own soul that there is no truth in such statements. Any suggestion of the thing too horrible to name between you and us is outside of the realm of possibilities."

Sir Philip lectured on "What America Means to the World." Saying that the League of Nations is a sham without the presence of America, he declared that Europe is still looking westward for spiritual leadership.

"We are not asking for your charity," he declared. "I am almost tempted to say 'Damn your dollars.' We want your spirit and your soul's help."

ARRESTED AS THIEF IN FRONT OF WALDORF

Waiter Accused by Woman of Snatching Purse.

After being chased down Fifth avenue for two blocks, Donald McFadyen, of 208 Eighth avenue, who said he was a waiter, was caught last night in front of the Waldorf by Patrolman Daggett of the West Thirtieth street station.
The complainant is Miss Georgiana Waldorf, of 37 Lower street, Waterbury, Conn., who is stopping at the Hotel Woodstock.

Miss Wolff told the police that Mc-Fadyen snatched her pocketbook, which contained $12.35, and started running when she began to cry out for help.
Patrolman Daggett was near Thirtieth street when he heard her, and he gave chase. McFadyen was searched and a pocketbook found on him was identified by Miss Wolff.

McFadyen was locked up in the West Thirtieth street station on a charge of grand larceny.

HONOR FOR ALPHA DELTA PHI

A bronze statue commemorating the war service of 2,500 members of the Alpha Delta Phi fraternity was unveiled last night at the Alpha Delta Phi Club, 125 West Forty-fourth street. The principal address was by Lewis Perry, head master of Phillips Exeter Academy.
Walter C. Tingle, president of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, accepted the statue on behalf of the club. The statue was executed by Robert Aiken.

WAITER TIP MAGISTRATE FOR TALK ON DICE AND DUTY

Eleven Crap Shooting Tray Balancers Pay Fines of $5 Each for Boisterous Conduct in a Basement.

Chief Magistrate McAdoo spent a pleasant day yesterday in West Side Court after he had disposed of the cases of eleven defendants, described as waiters, who had been "shooting craps," an African game played with dice. He said he could not remember any particular case that had been so enjoyable. It appeared that the waiters had congregated in the basement of a bakery at Sixty-third street and Broadway after their long hours of toil in service to the public and had started rolling the bones amid loud exclamations.

Detective Philip McAdams of the special service division said when he stepped in to break up the party there was a large amount of money in sight, and some of the waiters were engaged in personal bouts because of losses.

"I'm glad you gentlemen have come before me," said Magistrate McAdoo. "I am glad to know how you spend your leisure time. It explains why you are in restaurants in the city so rotten and the tips so large. The next time a waiter gets grouchy with me and then holds me up for a tip I'll know that he's been out knocking around some basement calling the turns, and I hope he gets caught at it. Right now you're going to pay me. You can consider you are tipping this court for the privilege of keeping you out of jail. The fine is $5 each."

The fine was paid, and the waiters tipped out of the court room.

TYPHUS CONFERENCE CALLED IN CAPITAL

Dr. Copeland Carries to Washington Recommendations for Prevention.

Dr. Royal S. Copeland, Commissioner of Health, will leave this city for Washington tonight to attend a conference of State health officers called there for to-morrow by Dr. Hugh S. Cumming, Surgeon-General of the Public Health Service, relative to the typhus situation here and at other Atlantic ports. The Commissioner said he would urge upon Dr. Cumming at the conference the necessity for the Government "bringing in immigrants 100 per cent. clean."

Dr. Copeland will be accompanied by Washington by Dr. Ralph N. Greene, Commissioner of Health of Florida, and Dr. Lee L. Arms, director of the Florida Bureau of Diagnostic Laboratories, who were here yesterday studying conditions regarding typhus. They fear the introduction of the disease in Florida through the arrival at Key West of infected persons from Cuba, and were making a study of quarantine methods which Dr.
Copeland is employing here.

Dr. Greene announced that two more rats infected with bubonic plague had been found in Pensacola. Thirty infected rodents were discovered there some time ago and destroyed. Dr. Copend said the presence of a bubonic infected rat in New York city would alarm him "more than anything else that could happen."

During the twenty-four hours ended at noon yesterday Health Department officials inspected arriving immigrants. Twenty-six cases here found to be vermin infested and were sent to the Willard Parker Hospital for de-lousing. Ten of the suspicious aliens were picked out of the 148 immigrants examined at the Grand Central Station and 11 from the 307 who landed from Ellis Island at the Battery. Dr.
Copeland expects it will be necessary to continue his inspections for the next ten days at least, he said.

Seven cases of sleeping sickness were reported yesterday, but there were no more deaths. Twenty-six cases have been reported thus far this week, with two deaths. The total since January 1 is 234, with sixty-one deaths.

Another case of sleeping sickness was discovered yesterday, this time in Jackson Heights, Elmhurst. William J. Justice, 44, was found to have the disease and was promptly sent to the hospital here from Boston and Watertown, Mass., and the health authorities there were notified. Justice gave a party in his home in New York City last night.
There were twenty-one guests and they are all known to the Health Department officials and are being kept under observation.

It was announced last night that the Public Health Service would take over the State quarantine station on Staten Island March 1.

MRS. SARGEANT SEEKS DIVORCE AND ALIMONY

No One Responds When Case Is Called for Argument.

A suit for divorce and alimony of $100 a week by Mrs. Pauline Quay Sargeant against Edmund Cook Sargeant was brought to light yesterday through a motion for counsel fees and alimony which was on the calendar for argument before Supreme Court Justice Mitchell C. Erlanger. No one responded.

Sargeant is vice-president of the Cornell University, Inc., exporters of electrical supplies, 29 Broadway, and a member of the Princeton and New York Athletic clubs.

Mrs. Sargeant alleged her husband deserted her on October 18, 1920, and some time later was found to be living at 31 East Fifty-eighth street. She alleges that a woman who is known as "Mrs. Sargeant" answered the doorbell.

SAYS BROKER'S WIFE STOLE HER HUSBAND

Mrs. Goodridge Asks $100-000 From Mrs. Beatty.

Suit for $100,000, charging alienation of the affections of her husband, William Edward Goodridge, was begun yesterday by Veronica Goodridge of Hempstead against Mrs. Jane Beatty of 175 West Eighty-seventh street.

Lawrence R. Beatty, husband of the defendant, and Mr. Goodridge are insurance brokers on Nassau street. The case on the second floor of 55 Beaver street, but they are not partners.

Mrs. Goodridge alleges that Mrs.
Beatty broke up her married life, which had lasted eleven years, by enticing Mr.
Goodridge away on January 29 and turning him against her. Neither Mr.
Hill, Mrs. Goodridge nor Mrs. Beatty would discuss the case last night.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO BRIDGETTS KILLING

Charles T. Davis Answers to Three Indictments.

Charles T. Davis, surgical dressing manufacturer, pleaded not guilty yesterday before County Judge May in Brooklyn to indictments charging murder for the killing to Detective Joseph Bridgetts and several other officers. Detective Edward McGone and George W. Horan, an insurance adjuster, in his office at 217 Duffield street, Brooklyn, last week. He was extremely nervous, and bowed when the court clerk called his name and asked him if he were the Charles T.
Davis specified. "I am," he replied.

His attorneys obtained leave to change the plea or to make other motions and in fourteen days. Two employees of the firm of Davis & Geck, Inc., at 217 Duffield street, Robert W. Wink, 1067 Dean street, and Howard M. Clark, 735 Seventy-ninth street, were held in $5,000 bail each as material witnesses.

District Attorney Lewis is preparing to fight a defense of insanity.

ENGINE EXPLODES; 3 SKINNED, 2 HURT

Freight Locomotive Blown to Bits in Yards at Jersey City.

CAUSE NOT DETERMINED

Dynamite in Coal Not Responsible, as at First Reported.

Officials Say.

Three men were killed and one probably fatally injured when the tender on a locomotive of the Lehigh Valley Railroad exploded at 10:35 o'clock last night at Johnston and Jersey avenues, Jersey City. The cause of the explosion is unknown.

The dead are: GEORGE, 30, Thomas of Lehigh, 24, William T. Johnston, of 110 Erie street, Jersey City; MICHAEL JOHN, 30, brakeman, of 210 Clark street, Jersey City.

George Walsh, 30, the engineer, of Lehigh, Pa., was taken to the Jersey City Hospital suffering from burns about the head and neck. He was not expected to live until morning.

Thomas McDonald, 40, a switchman of 121 Bright street, Jersey City, was injured on the left leg but was able to go home after treatment.

The engine, which was used only for switching in the yards, had started up with a train of about twenty freight cars when the explosion occurred. The boiler and cab were lifted off the tracks and blown seventy-five feet ahead of the trucks. The cab landed right side up, but McCauley and McKeen were hurled under the debris. Arnold was picked up a few feet away, and Walsh, the engineer, landed on top of the cab.

It was three hours after the explosion before the bodies of McCauley and McKeen could be removed from the debris.

The explosion brought hundreds of people to the scene. At first it was thought that there had been a fire, and that more than a dozen had been killed. There also was a report that the explosion resulted from dynamite placed in the tender of the locomotive, but it was said authoritatively this morning that dynamite was not responsible, though the real cause is unknown.

CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS QUIT MOTHER CHURCH

To Start New Church at Astor Hotel Sunday.

The discord within the ranks of the Christian Science Church which has led some of the disciples of Mary Baker Eddy to predict the wreck of the organization, has resulted, for the first time in its history, in the formation of a church outside the Mother Church. It will hold its first meeting in the Hotel Astor Sunday morning.

Those who are organizing the new church assert that the meeting will be followed by others the country over. Mrs.
Helena Barwis of 327 Central Park West, former reader in the Tenth Christian Science Church, is one of those most active in the new church. Albert P. Gilmore, spokesman for the Mother church here, contends that Mrs. Barwis is acting out of chapin at having been removed from her position in the Tenth Church, and scolds the idea that she has any backing for her movement.

Mrs. Barwis said yesterday that she had already received 1,000 inquiries from Christian Scientists regarding the new church, and that she anticipated its initial membership would reach approximately that figure.

Mrs. Barwis said the ideas back of the new church were mainly to combat centralization of power and the tendency to deify Mrs. Eddy. Benjamin Verdell, 27, of 389 Lenox avenue, and Thomas Farmer, 23, of 2174 Lexington avenue, were arrested in Chicago by detectives of the United States Placidity Court at New York City, 47 Cedar street, and Harlem police detectives. Two of the prisoners are said to have made statements.

CARUSO'S BIRTHDAY WILL FIND HIM BETTER

Pleura Healing and Fever Less Virulent.

Enrico Caruso rested well yesterday, and it was said last night at his apartment at the Vanderbilt that his condition was more hopeful than at any time since his relapse. The fever from his influenza has subsided, and he continues above 100, but it is becoming less virulent, and the physicians believe it will soon disappear. Following is the daily bulletin issued at noon yesterday:

"Mr. Caruso is progressing slowly but in a satisfactory manner. His condition is improving in every way. The nature of the pleurisy the physicians said, makes it impossible even now to say that Caruso is out of danger, though he is growing stronger daily.
Plans for his convalescence are being made. Sunday is his forty-eighth birthday, but there will be no celebration of any sort, because the physicians fear that the least excitement might be dangerous. He is not permitted to see visitors.

The pleura is healing slowly, it was said. The pleural cavity is drained three times a day and washed with an antiseptic solution by means of a rubber tube inserted in the back between the seventh and eighth ribs, where an incision was made several weeks ago.

SHOT GIRL; LEARNS OF DEATH IN COURT

McMonagle, Charged With Murder, Collapses in Cell.

James McMonagle, who shot Dorothy Seltzer, 22, on February 18 in her apartment, 602 West 137th street, was arraigned yesterday in Washington Heights Court on a charge of murder.
McMonagle had been confined in Harlem prison since his arrest, and believing the young woman was still alive had written letters daily to her, addressing them to Harlem Hospital, where he supposed she was under care.

When he was informed of the charge and that the young woman died last Sunday, McMonagle was nearly overcome. He wept and begged for mercy.
Magistrate McQuade was informed that an indictment would be returned in twenty-four hours, and sent McMonagle back to the prison. When he reached his cell McMonagle collapsed. The prison keeper said the muscles of his face seemed to be partly paralyzed.

in the trolley or at a dinner the advantages and disadvan-

There seem to be but few

New Polo Coats for women

The blizzards that bloom in the spring remind us that a light warm top-coat is one of the very vital features of the springtime wardrobe.

If you are deciding just what sort of top-coat you will choose, for general wear for sports or travel or motor wear we suggest a natural tan colored polo coat.

This suggestion is based on accurate fashion information.
Polo coats have achieved favor again this season. Illustrated is a full length model in tan polo cloth, made with raglan shoulders and adjustable collar. The slit pockets, the clear horse buttons, the matching silk lining, are all carefully executed details that give the coat distinction. Price $45.

Another similar full length model and three-quarter length model, at the same price.

Two little secretaries of unusually fine workmanship and delicate design, newly arrived Au Quatrieme, have this rare quality. One is a small Louis XVI. "desk for a lady" made with both serpentine front and serpentine sides—a "point" of finesse in design. It is of acajou, inlaid beautifully with a lattice of narrow strips and little stars on the gracefully curved front. The interior, with its complication of small drawers is delightful. Price $900.

The other secretary is of the slim Directoire type, much like a "bonheur du jour," but larger and more elaborate. It is of light mahogany inlaid with brass and ebony wood, and equipped with a marble top.

We say "inevitable" be-like the weather chooses to

Mme. Alda Sings— Farewell

Mme. Alda made her last appearance of the operatic season at the Metropolitan on Wednesday evening.

But if you have a Victrola, Mme. Alda will continue to sing for you in your own home at any time. She is one of the most accomplished of the many exclusive artists now singing for the Victrola. Some of her records, now available, are—
